AMERICA'S POWER ENHANCED BY WAR
Czar's Finance Minister Pays Tribute to Importance of United States.
SAYS RUSSIA IS READY TO WELCOME CLOSER TIES
Fine Prospects Open There, He Says, for American Business Men.
PARIS, September 21, 1 p.m.—Pierre L. Bark, Russian minister of finance, has concluded his conference with the French finance minister, Alexandre Ribot. He departed today for London to take up financial matters affecting the allies with Reginald McKenna, British chancellor of the exchequer. Before he departed M. Bark made the following statement to the Associated Press:
"It would be infantile to deny that the role of the United States in international finance during the past year has been extremely important. The power of America as a center of production has been affirmed in incontestable manner. The needs of the belligerents have changed international credit balances markedly in favor of the United States that the question of exchange has become acute.
"Supplies which America is sending to Europe prepare the market for the resale to Americans of their securities held in Europe. It is to be hoped that the Anglo-French delegates negotiating in New York will find a basis adapted to American tastes and temperament."
Russia's Financial Troubles.
M. Bark alluded to "the lively sympathies of Russia toward Russia when she was emancipating the serfs at the same time that America abolished slavery and maintained the Union." He continued:
"Russia is going through a difficult period as regards credit. We cannot export our products, and there is a lack of remittances from abroad. Russia is not spending the time and money to take the course and enjoy the wages each year there-

AMERICA'S POWER ENHANCED BY WAR
Czar's Finance Minister Pays Tribute to Importance of United States.
SAYS RUSSIA IS READY TO WELCOME CLOSER TIES
Fine Prospects Open There, He Says, for American Business Men.
PARIS, September 21, 1 p.m.—Pierre L. Bark, Russian minister of finance, has concluded his conference with the French finance minister, Alexandre Ribot. He departed today for London to take up financial matters affecting the allies with Reginald McKenna, British chancellor of the exchequer. Before he departed M. Bark made the following statement to the Associated Press:
"It would be infantile to deny that the role of the United States in international finance during the past year has been extremely important. The power of America as a center of production has been affirmed in incontestable manner. The needs of the belligerents have changed international credit balances markedly in favor of the United States that the question of exchange has become acute.
"Supplies which America is sending to Europe prepare the market for the resale to Americans of their securities held in Europe. It is to be hoped that the Anglo-French delegates negotiating in New York will find a basis adapted to American tastes and temperament."
Russia's Financial Troubles.
M. Bark alluded to "the lively sympathies of Russia toward Russia when she was emancipating the serfs at the same time that America abolished slavery and maintained the Union." He continued:
"Russia is going through a difficult period as regards credit. We cannot export our products, and there is a lack of remittances from abroad. Russia is not spending the time and money to take the course and enjoy the wages each year there-
